SALVATION ARMY BAND ON KAUAI

The Life Saving Salvation Army Band completed its Season by the Tour of Kauai, following that of Hawaii and Maui, during the last week.

Landing Wednesday morning at Waimea they were entertained by Mrs. Cox during the day and gave one of their unique sacred entertainments in the evening, at the Waimea hall, which was crowded for the occasion.

During Thursday, Friday, and Saturday they were the guests of Mr. Alex. McBryde at Lawai, where, on the lawn, and in the sea, and on the shore, they literally "had the time of their lives."

Thursday evening they played at Lihue, Friday at Elele, and Saturday at Koloa, mostly to crowded houses and enthusiastic audiences.

Sunday morning they conducted the service at the Lihue Union Church, and in the evening gave a sacred concert at the Tip Top.

While in Lihue they were quartered at the Armory, which with its equipment of cots, blankets, etc., was placed at their disposal by the courtesy of Dick Oliver. While there, as elsewhere, they took care of their own commissariat, as they were abundantly able to do.

Monday afternoon the children of the Lihue Union church gave them a reception on the church lawn and inducted the Band girls into the mysteries of base ball and "Ory, ory, outs in free," also showed them how to get away with soda water and sandwiches.

Tuesday they were the guests of Mrs. Brandt and other Waimea ladies on an auto tour of the Island. They had also been invited to spend the day and lunch at Papalinaloa, by Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilcox, but alas there was no time to get it in.

They left by the Kinau more than pleased with the treatment they had received, and with the assurance that "Kauai is allright, even though it hasn't quite all gone Salvation Army yet!"

The Return of the Weoweo

Every Hawaiian that is the least of a fisherman, and every Hawaiian is that, is very much excited just now over the appearance of the "weoweo" on our coasts, and every path thereto is lined with fishermen, and fisher-maidens too, with rod and line, in the late afternoon wending their way to the best point of vantage for fish; and later in the evening they come trooping back, fairly laden down with the catch; and there is fish-feasting and rejoicing in many a simple home far into the night.

The "weoweo" is a little red fish about three inches long, when broiled or fried are "ono loa,"—delicious. They are caught with hook and line, and though small they are fine fishing, as they bite greedily; you can pull them out in a steady string like a belt conveyor, after they once get started; but when they once take a notion to stop, it is pau, no more!

In Hawaiian story the weoweo is a prophetic fish that always portends the death of an "alii" or high chief; it never fails; and there are all kinds of interested speculations as to who it will be this time. Owing to the dearth of alis in these haole days some think that it means the downfall of Governor Pinkham.

The Ukulele it seems after all is Hawaiian only by adoption. It was brought to the Islands by the first Portuguese immigrants from the Azores where it is known as the Braga. The name ukulele was given facetiously by Edw. Purvis, the brother of the Mr. Purvis whom we know so well, who was the royal chamberlain at the time and a very gifted wit. Ukulele means "jumping mite," or flea.

The Picnic of the Band girls on the lawn was due to the initiative and executive of Mrs. Lydgate; it was all arranged in a few hours when it was learned that they had a little spare time.

Out of the Ordinary

Mr. and Mrs. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. Clapper, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood accomplished a strenuous and unusual week-end outing last week that will put them at the head of the list for some time.

Starting in the small hours of the morning on Saturday they made Haena lalo by daylight and Hanakapi, over the hazardous cliff trail, by 9 o'clock. Here they camped on a bit of sandy beach in the shelter of an overhanging cliff that protected them, in imagination at least, against any weather that there might have been. From this headquarters they explored and enjoyed the wonders and beauties of this little known and interesting region. They also fished; but to little purpose; the fish were on a vacation too.

They returned early Monday morning very much impressed with the charm of the region but also with the conviction that one ought to give it more time after going so far.

The Ball Games

The second series of the Baseball season started off Sunday afternoon with two games, one being between the Lihues and McBrydes, at Elele, and the other the Makawelis and Makees, at Makaweli. There were good crowds at both places, and the best of weather favored the contests.

The Lihues, crippled by the loss of their pitcher and catcher, put up a game fight at Elele, but "blew up" in the fifth and sixth innings, letting their opponents in for six runs. The final score was six to two in favor of the homers.

The game at Makaweli was sharply contested throughout, and closed 3 to 2 in favor of the home team, the visitors having full bases at the time. The Makawelis made all of their runs in a single inning.

It is interesting that the victors in the first games of the first series are losers in the first games of the second series, indicating that some fast baseball is in prospect.

Kawaihau News

The Kealia Store is enlarging its premises, due, doubtless to its increasing trade.

Prof. Leslie Clark, Director of the County Farm, together with family have now taken up residence upon the premises.

Mr. and Mrs. Kopke are the latest motor enthusiasts and may be seen at any time of the day and night, enjoying their car, which recently arrived.

Miss Mary Jensen, principal of Kapahi school, has returned from attending Summer School in Honolulu. We are pleased to see her smiling countenance again.

Mrs. J. M. Kuhns and infant daughter leave by this evening's "Mauna Loa" and proceed by the S. S. "Maui" to the Coast, upon a visit to her parents in Missouri. They expect to return before Christmas.

Judging from the number of visitors the Hawaiian Canneries' beach is a very popular bathing resort, especially with the ladies. "The Boys" are no doubt responsible, to no small extent, for these congenial gatherings.

Church Resumes

After a few weeks of vacation the Lihue Union Church will resume activity this coming Sunday when there will be appropriate opening services of a special character. Every one is cordially invited to come that we may start off with spirit and enthusiasm.

The various committees are reminded of their regular duties; and the choir will meet for practice Thursday evening as of old.

J. M. LYDGE.

Halemanu Nei

Credit should be given Dr. A. R. Glaisyer as the author of the verses "Halemanu Nei" which appeared in the Garden Island last issue.

Local and Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilcox went to town on Saturday to return this week.

Hans Hansen of Waimea went to town by the Kinau Friday to enter the H. M. A. school.

W. H. Curtin, representing Fred L. Waldron, Ltd., is making a business tour of the island.

Mrs. G. B. Leavett returned from town last week where she helped to start her sister successfully on her married life.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Myers and Mrs. Chamberlain returned from Hawaii last week, after visiting the most interesting portions of that island.

As a result of the "Advertiser" pilot car exploration party it is reported that there are some 850 miles of main roads suitable for auto travel in these Islands.

Mrs. McClusky, the wife of our new High School principal, is a niece of Mrs. S. W. Wilcox. Her father is Judge Fred Lyman of Hilo. So she is "kamaaina loa."

Mrs. G. T. Gregg, accompanied by her son and daughter went to town by the Kinau Friday. She will enter her daughter in Punahou and her son in the H. M. A. school.

The sugar crop of the Islands is estimated at 643,000 tons, nearly all of which has been already harvested. Of this some 13,000 tons is refined locally and will be used for home consumption.

Miss Frances Thompson of Makaweli has been spending the summer with Mrs. Richard Hughes, formerly of Elele, but now living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott of Hilo.

Mr. De Vis Norton, Hawaii representative of the Promotion Committee has been spending a week or so as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter at Hanalei. He left on the Kinau Saturday.

Rev. W. E. Potwine, for many years a resident of these Islands and on various occasions a visitor to Kauai in the interest of the Episcopal mission work, died a few days ago at Santa Rosa, Cal.

Friends returning from California report the Purvis family as being comfortably located in Berkeley where they are enjoying the amenities of metropolitan life. They were never better in health.

Friends returning from the Coast by the Matson steamer Maui, report that there were 125 teachers and some 50 ordinary passengers aboard, and that the Sierra will bring even a larger consignment of teachers.

The Salvation Army Band girls who have been making a grand tour of the Islands this Summer now say that Kauai is the best. Up to coming here it was Maui, but Kauai has "put it over" everything in the treatment of them.

Mr. H. H. Brodie is back again at Hanapepe ready for a new year of school work in the old surroundings, but with new life and enthusiasm. He is glad to get back to the cool breezes and the refreshing air of Kauai, after the heat and dryness of California.

Mrs. Frank Crawford braved a horse-back ride to Kipukai last Wednesday, to spend a few days with Mrs. R. L. Wilcox. Although a "malihini" Mrs. Crawford took her first riding lesson over the Kipu pass a month or so ago. Doesn't that constitute her a member of the "kamaaina" class?

It wasn't entirely good fortune that steered the bridal bouquet to Chas. S. Dole the other day at the church wedding. Rather was it the result of a long reach and strenuous endeavor. Mr. De Lacy came in as close second. His endeavor was equal to the occasion, but not his reach. Poor Teddie!

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilcox, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. McClusky and family, returned home by the last Kinau. It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox accompanied their daughter Mabel as far as San Francisco about a month ago, remaining on the Coast only a week or so. Upon their return they went on to Maui to visit their daughter Mrs. Digby Sloggett and family. They enjoyed their vacation month very much.

A Pretty Afternoon Wedding

The Lihue Union Church was the scene of a charming afternoon wedding, Thursday Aug. 30th, when Mr. E. Livesey of the wireless was married to Mrs. Josephine L. Deas of Waipouli by Rev. J. M. Lydgate in the presence of some 40 or more of their intimate friends.

The church was very effectively decorated in palms, ferns, and large masses of white lilies by the sisters of the bride, Mrs. Cheatham and Mrs. Israel.

The bride was simply but very prettily gowned in white silk crepe de chine.

The bridal bouquet, the work of the sisters, was a very original and effective combination of white flowers, ferns and white silk streamers, starred with white narcissus.

After the ceremony the bride, standing on the steps of the church, threw the bouquet out to the guests assembled on the lawn. It fell to Mr. Chas. S. Dole.

The bridal couple motored to Hanalei where they will spend a week's honeymoon at Pilikai, the Isenberg beach home.

A Loss to the Community

Miss Daisy Sheldon left on the Kinau last Saturday for Honolulu, where she will teach during the coming year. Her transfer will take from the community one who has earned the respect and regard of all who knew her; one who was always ready to help in every way within her power in every worthy enterprise and in every public endeavor.

A faithful and efficient worker in Sunday School and Christian Endeavor; a stand by in the church choir, rain or shine; a reliable and willing member of the Mokihana Club; and a ready respondent to any and every demand of a public kind that came up; the words of the Master are her best characterization—"She hath done what she could,"—which is the highest praise that can be given to any one.

We are glad of the assurance that she is to remain in Honolulu only one year; we shall be glad to welcome her back.

Death Of Mrs. Hackbarth

Mrs. Gustave Hackbarth of Kapala, in a fit of temporary aberration, came to a sad end this last week.

Sometime during the night of the 29th, she wandered away from home, and was not found until the morning of the 31st, when she had been dead for some time. She was the capable and faithful mother of a large family, most of whom are grown up and married and by whom her memory will be tenderly cherished.

The Latest Engagement

Miss Frances Thompson, principal of Makaweli school, is engaged to Mr. Henry Lyman of Puna, Hawaii. Miss Thompson is a charming and gifted woman, and will grace her home with all that goes to make for refinement and culture.

Mr. Lyman is a son of the late Rufus Lyman of Hilo, and owns a large sugar estate in the district of Puna. The "Garden Island" expresses good wishes to the happy couple.

An Interesting Visitor

Miss Dorothy C. Rowell, a niece of the late Wm. E. Rowell whom many of us knew so well, is on Kauai on a brief visit, mainly for the purpose of overhauling the library and other literary remains of her grandfather, who for long years was a missionary in charge of the work at Waimea, and was an unusually gifted man.

Miss Rowell is the daughter of George Rowell an elder brother of William. Miss Rowell came to the Islands from New York some years ago, and devoted herself to the declining years of her uncle.

Miss Ruth Johnson, sister of Mrs. Douglas Baldwin returned to Honolulu by the Kinau on Friday.

The Civic Convention

Arrangements have been perfected by J. J. Belsor, chairman of the civic convention's sub-committee on transportation, which will land Kauai delegates to the convention at Honolulu on the morning of Saturday the fifteen of September, which is Regatta Day, and take them home Tuesday night, after the final banquet at the Moana hotel.

Just when the Tuesday night boat will sail depends on how good a representation Kauai sends to the convention. The Inter-Island Steam Navigation company, while willing to do everything in its power to oblige and assist the convention, does not feel it ought to inconvenience a majority of its Tuesday night passengers for the pleasure of the minority.

But if Kauai sends the delegation expected by the central committee, the shoe will be on the other foot. The delegates will be in the majority and the boat will be held until 11 o'clock. Raymond C. Brown, chairman of the central committee, says he expects Kauai to send forty. One estimate of seventy-five has reached him, but he wants to be on the safe side.

Whichever proves to be the correct figure, it is certain that this year's convention will be the best attended the Islands have ever known. Maui and Hilo both are counted on to send forty delegates each, while from Kohala and Kona on the Big Island a dozen more are expected. From Honolulu the representation will be ninety.

Provision will be made this year for a limited number of members at large to cover some persons who, for one reason or another are not members of the constituent organizations and who are yet interested in Civic Convention matters. Such persons can receive the necessary credentials by communicating with Raymond C. Brown, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Honolulu.

Something We Need

Some of the teachers returning from the coast tell with interest of the School Survey which has been made recently in San Francisco, which will undoubtedly lead to a more or less thorough reconstruction of the schools of that city.

The survey, which extended over several months, dealt not only with the actual teaching, but with the course of study, the equipment of the teachers and the methods employed, finding, we understand, much to criticize in each department.

The survey was so unostentatiously conducted that very many of the teachers involved didn't even know that it was going on. Nevertheless it is reported to be a most thorough and exhaustive investigation. Such an investigation, impartial, thorough, and conclusive in its findings should be conducted on these Islands, that we may have some intelligent knowledge of where we stand.

To Get Films of Kauai

Mr. O. C. Gilmore of the Prismic Film Co. of New York has been on Hawaii and Oahu making films of the interesting things there for moving picture use. We understand that the pictures are taken in the natural colors and are uncommonly fine.

Mr. Gilmore we understand is coming to Kauai to complete his set here, we bespeak him a hospitable reception and good weather.

Mrs. Katherine Burke returned by the Mauna Loa Friday morning. She spent the summer at the California University attending various courses of lectures and breathing the inspiring air of that great academic institution.

While in Lihue the Salvation Army Band girls were treated to auto rides by Judge Dickey, with his car full to overflowing, he took load after load of happy youngsters to see the Wailua Falls etc.

Sgt. Sharpe, Quartermaster Sergeant of the Quartermaster's Department, has been in Lihue since last Wednesday giving instructions in property accountability and responsibility. He returns to Honolulu tonight.

THE NEW HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

Mr. Wm. McClusky, the new principal of the Lihue High and Grammar School, arrived last Wednesday with his family, and are at present the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Wilcox.

Mr. McClusky is a man of excellent equipment for the position; in ability, education and winning personality, and of much experience as an educator both aboard and on these Islands. He was recently Supervising Principal for the Island of Maui, and before that was principal of various large schools in the Territory.

Appointed to the position of Statistician of the Board of Education, he preferred to remain in the more direct educational work, so he effected an exchange with Mr. Avery that he might come here.

He gives every assurance of success in his chosen work; we welcome him to it, and to a position of influence and usefulness in the community; in all of which he will be materially assisted by a gracious and attractive wife.

A Scientists Conclusions

Dr. Campbell whose visit to Kauai we chronicled a few weeks ago, has completed his investigations here for the present, and has found what he considers pretty conclusive evidence of the land connection of these Islands with the East Indian Islands and the Malay Peninsula.

His study has been devoted to the liverwort mosses, which show many forms almost identical with those of Java especially, which would seem to indicate a continuous land connection at one time, ages ago. This indication is confirmed by a striking similarity of some notable plants of the higher orders, for example, the kukui, the pihala, the ie-ie, etc. These are common throughout the Pacific, a distribution that would seem to involve lines of land travel for their dissemination.

Dr. Campbell will devote some considerable time to the careful study of his data before formally publishing his results.

Manufacture Of Liquor

The manufacture of distilled liquor will cease next Saturday, September 8. After that date it will be unlawful to distill any grain, feed or fruit for the purpose of making distilled spirits.

There will be on hand, however, a large stock which will be sufficient to last a couple of years or so. This however, may be commandeered by the President if he so elects.

Change of the Mauna Loa

During the slack season while there is no grinding, the Mauna Loa will make but one trip a week. She will sail as usual for Honolulu on Tuesday evening and return Friday morning; and then remain over in Kauai waters until the following Tuesday.

When the bridal party left for Hanalei after the ceremony the other day, it was discovered that the back of the car was decorated with a big poster "Just Married" in letters large enough to be read two or three blocks away; and a goodly array of old shoes that had done much service along the Homestead roads. They immediately made a strenuous effort to remove them but were prevented by their friends, and set out anyway, on their journey with these things very much in evidence.

The Band Girls were conveyed to the church lawn Monday afternoon in autos belonging to Mrs. Hogg, Mrs. Wedemeyer, Judge Dickey and others, who found the girls very appreciative of their kindness. There were 45 children on the lawn and some dozen Lihue mothers and friends. They made lots of noise—at least the children did.
